Alderman Buboltz, Girl Injured in Truck Mishap

4th Ward Official, Blanche Pruden in Benedictine Hospital

Alderman John Buboltz of the Fourth Ward and Blanche Pruden, 23, of 9 Spruce street, were injured about 2:10 p. m. today when Buboltz' automobile and a Needles Express tractor-trailer collided on Wurts street, police reported.

Other passengers in the automobile and the truck driver, Earl William Longendyke of 12 East 6th street, reported no injuries, police said.

Buboltz physician said today that the Fourth Ward alderman received several broken ribs and that otherwise his condition is "good." He is a patient at the Benedictine Hospital. Miss Pruden is in "good" condition, hospital authorities said.

According to Patrolman Guernsey Burger, Jr., and Henry Rosenberg, who investigated the accident, the tractor-trailer was on Wurts and West Union streets. Both vehicles were carried over into the Greenman property at 18 Wurts street, damaging a fence and demolishing a "City of Kingston" sign, police said.

Truck Driver's Report
Longendyke, driver of the tractor-trailer, told police he had stopped his vehicle on the Redoubt Creek bridge at the traffic light. He said that when the light changed, and at the West Union street intersection the Buboltz vehicle struck the right side of the tractor.

The impact caused the air lines between the tractor and the trailer to break, giving the large vehicle insufficient braking power to prevent its running over the sidewalk, Longendyke told police.

In addition to the broken air lines, the right side of the Needles tractor was damaged, police said. The tractor front end and left side of Buboltz's 1931 Pontiac sedan was damaged, police said.

With Buboltz was riding, in addition to Miss Pruden, Agnes McCord, 27, of 22 Davis street, and John Witkowski, 35, of 88 Third street, police said.

Gets Slim Margin
Patist Dec. 24 (AP)—Premier Georges Bidault's coalition French government still faced shaky times today even though it had won a narrow vote of confidence on the national budget. The Lower House of the National Parliament early today backed by a slim margin of six votes Bidault's demands that it rescind his proposed 2,237,000,000 franc ($340,000,000) budget instead of a lower opposition one.

Patrolman Hyatt Resigns to Keep Print Shop Job

The resignation of Patrolman Kenneth Hyatt was accepted by the Board of Police Commissioners at a regular meeting Friday night. It was announced today by Police Chief Raymond Van Buren, secretary of the board.

Hyatt, a former president of the Kingston Patrolmen's Association, has been on a leave of absence since October, 1948, during which time he has been employed by M. Thomas Sons, printers, of 27 Crown street. He expects to continue his employment there, as shop foreman.

Mr. Hyatt recently became affiliated with Kingston Local No. 322, of the International Typographical Union.

Hyatt was appointed a regular patrolman May 1, 1940. He was promoted to sergeant in January 4, 1941 and served until April 1, 1946, when he returned to duty with the police department. He was granted a furlough from police duties in October, 1948. Prior to joining the police force, Hyatt was foreman of the job department of The Leader Company of this city.

Pope Delivers Christmas Message

Speaking in the Consistorial Hall of the Vatican Palace, Vatican City, Pope Pius XII delivers his annual Christmas message to the world, before the Sacred College of Cardinals and ecclesiastical and lay members of the papal court. He urged the world to make the 1950 Holy Year a turning point toward peace. (NEA Radio-Telephoto)

Pope Asks Uniting Conservation Program and Of Faiths; Plea Is Unpopular Request

(By The Associated Press)
Pope Pius XII's plea for all faiths to unite under the Roman Catholic Church has met with either disapproval or silence from leading Jewish and Protestant spokesmen.

Some said they agreed with the Pope that there is a need for religious cooperation in the world, but were averse to his idea of joining under the church at Rome.

The Pope, in his Christmas message yesterday, urged all believers to return to "the one true church" to combat militant atheism.

The Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America, the nation's largest, representative federation of various Protestant denominations, declined to comment.

Mr. Julius Mark, senior rabbi of the country's largest Jewish congregation, the Temple Emanuel-Eli, endorsed the Pope's call for "religious renewal" but he said this will not be achieved by everyone joining the Roman Catholic or any other one church.

"We do not regard our own or any religious communion as the one true church," he said. "Every church dedicated to the service of God and man is a true church."

Dr. John W. Behnken, president of the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod, largest body in American Lutheranism, said "there can be no return to a church which claims to take the place of Christ, and whose leader claims to be the vicar of Christ."

"It saddens us that the Pope refers to an believing Protestants as 'children who abandoned us,' of 'fostered us, made us and are making us to suffer,'" Behnken said. "It saddens us, too, that the Roman Church has maintained and even augmented the abuses of Christ's teaching which forced

After Yule Greeting to Nation, Truman to Start Making Visits

Independence, Mo., Dec. 24 (AP)—Free from the burdens of state for a few days, President Truman planned to get in a lot more visiting today with relatives and old friends.

There was only one formal event scheduled for the day—a speech at 5:15 p. m. (E.S.T.) extending Christmas greetings to the nation. Mr. Truman will speak from the White House lawn in Washington.

The President lost little time in getting his annual Christmas visit under way.

Within a few hours after arriving from Washington yesterday, he called at St. Joseph's Hospital in nearby Kansas City, to chat

Record Yule Sales Indicated in Nation

Travelers Crowd All Conveyances In Yuletide Rush

Travel May Be Heaviest Since War; Eastern New York May Get Christmas Snow

New York, Dec. 24 (AP)—The twin thoughts of home and Christmas today had millions of Americans traveling in what is always the biggest migration of the year.

Railways, airlines, buses and highways were all crowded in what may be counted the biggest travel year since the war.

The weather, denying a white Christmas to most of the nation, held off its worst blows but sniped at some air and road movement.

The complex New York city area, probably the busiest holiday center, was alternately emptying out and filling up with visitors.

The big eastern railroads posted extra trains by the hundreds to handle the movements over the long week-end, and said they were keeping up with the rush.

Airlines scheduled 92 extra flights out of La Guardia Field alone, and the Greyhound Bus Company said "every bus that can roll is rolling."

"Squally weather yesterday, that settled down to a clear freeze overnight, complicated the airways problems but did not actually hinder movement, they said.

Cold Weather Forecast
New York city itself will have to dream its white Christmas, the weather man said. But he added that the sale log will come in handy tonight with lows of 20 forecast in the city sections and a colder 15 for outlying suburbs.

The eastern part of the state may get its Christmas snow, however, along with a good chance of over-weather.

For the Friday-to-Tuesday week-end, Pennsylvania Railroad made up 186 extra trains, the New York Central 28 for Friday alone, and the New York, New Haven and Hartford listed 124 extras for the stretch.

Last minute shopping was heavy, but not exceptional, and gift seekers knocked off early Friday night.

The post office drove ahead in its yearly agony—handling nearly half-a-billion letters in the Manhattan-Bronx boroughs alone.

Postmaster Albert Goldman said the incoming mail has totaled 245,774,914 letters in the first 22 days of the holiday period, compared to an outgoing total of 247,645,405. The two figures are within less than one per cent of each other.

With packages, the story is different. New York has sent out 24,000,000 packages while receiving less than 7,400,000. This is probably not due to any extra big-heartedness in the city—but simply because New York is the merchandising capital of the country with enormous commercial mailing lists.

Youth Electrocut After Trimming Tree

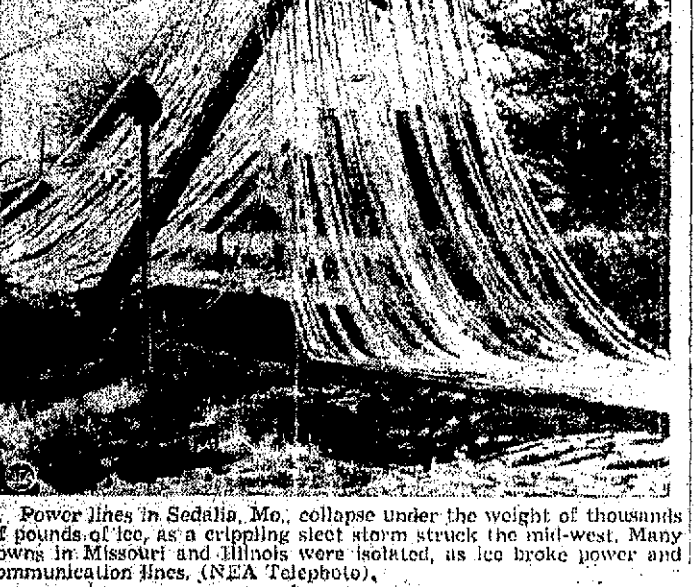

Newton, Mass., Dec. 24 (AP)—A six-year-old boy died last night under the Christmas tree he had helped his parents decorate.

The body of Albert Kovackich, Jr., son of a prominent physician, was found in a tangled mass of wires at the base of the gayly decorated tree.

Medical Examiner T. Morton Gallagher said the boy was electrocuted when he put his finger in an open socket of the Christmas tree light while lying on his stomach on an iron bed register.

The parents said Albert helped them decorate the tree only a few hours earlier.

Wins Freedom for Medical Aid

Louis Boy, 50, walks out of Sing Sing prison at Ossining, N. Y., Dec. 23, a free man after serving 18 years of a life term as a convicted murderer. Boy, once condemned to death in the electric chair, won a gubernatorial Christmas pardon for risking his life in an unsuccessful medical experiment to save the life of a little girl doomed by leukemia. Guard Sergeant C. K. Rosenbark holds the gate open for Boy.

Divorced Wife in Custody For Shooting College Dean

Pardoned Prisoner Will Spend Yule Season With Son

Athens, Ga., Dec. 24 (AP)—Five bullets fired by a middle-aged divorced wife last night killed her former husband, Dean John E. Drewry, a 50-year-old life-termer who won his freedom because he risked his life to try to save a little girl doomed by leukemia.

"Son, God bless you, my son," whispered Boy.

Then Boy, and his son, Joseph, 21, left the State Parole Board office here and went yesterday to the home of the older man's parents in downtown Manhattan where they will spend Christmas.

Boy, who last summer voluntarily underwent a vein-to-vein exchange with a leukemia-stricken little girl, was pardoned by Gov. Thomas E. Dewey.

The convicted murderer was the first person who ever knowingly took the taint of the cancerous blood disease into his veins. It failed to save the girl, but his courage ended for him 18 years in Sing Sing prison.

He said he did not plan to see his former wife, who married seven years ago.

"I don't think that would be proper," he said.

He insisted he was not bitter because she had remarried.

"I was glad for her," he said. (Continued on Page 5, Col. 7)

Miss America Engaged to Boy Who Hated Beauty Contests

Phoenix, Ariz., Dec. 24 (AP)—Miss America has announced her engagement to her high school and college boy friend who hated beauty contests.

Jacquie Mercer, vivacious brunette from Littlefield Park, Ariz., breezed in 45 minutes late last night for the engagement party at which it was revealed she will marry Douglas Cook, 20-year-old art student, on July 4.

A big sign "We'll Lose Our Independence on Independence Day" announced to the 400 guests that 18-year-old Jacquie and her "stubby" of five years standing planned to visit the preacher. They don't think she'll have to give up her Miss America title when she becomes a Mrs.

Jacquie and Doug worked until the last minute putting the finishing touches on posters that formed the party decorations. Then they hurried out to change clothes, and didn't get back in time for the start of the party.

There wasn't any engagement ring. "We plan just to have a double ring wedding ceremony," Jacquie explained.

When Doug left for classes at the University of Chicago, he advised Jacquie against entering a Miss Phoenix contest. Evidently not a woman to be swayed, the native Arizona ranch girl not only became Miss Phoenix, she became Miss Arizona and Miss America as well.

For face, curves and acting won the acclaim of the Atlantic City judges in the big contest. Her measurements: Five feet

Dairymen to Vote On Price Formula

Syracuse, N. Y., Dec. 24 (AP)—Dairymen in the six-state New York milkshed will vote soon on a proposed fluid pricing formula that will permit changes in producers returns in one cent units. The proposed formula, announced by the U. S. Agriculture Department, would eliminate the present "bracket" system in which changes in the class 1-A price are permitted only in units of 22 cents a hundredweight (about 47 quarts.)

A 22-cent change usually is followed by a change of one-cent a quart in the retail price.

The proposed pricing plan embraces all but one of the major recommendations of the New York Milkshed Price Committee, made up of college professors.

The plan calls for a formula based on the Department of Labor wholesale price index, seasonal adjustments, and utilization factor.

The committee recommendation that was rejected would have permitted the secretary of agriculture to change the producer price five per cent in time of pricing stress.

Concerning this, the Agriculture Department said that present hearing machinery was satisfactory for emergency pricing needs.

The New York Milkshed Price Committee submitted the plan at department hearings in the milkshed in September and October. Approximately 47,000 dairymen in New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Vermont, Massachusetts and Connecticut supply milk to the New York marketing area.

Dates for the balloting on the new pricing plan were not announced.

Working on Vaccine To Kill Polio Viruses

New York, Dec. 24 (AP)—The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, working to find a cure for the disease as well as to relieve distress when it strikes, has outlined its long-term plan of action.

Dr. Harry M. Weaver said yesterday that the main point is to find out how many viruses cause polio.

He said there may be more than the three that have been isolated so far. When—and if—they are discovered, the next step will be to work out a vaccine that is effective against all of them.

Dr. Weaver said that through the foundation, the Universities of Pittsburgh, Kansas, Southern safety patrol program, it was decided to have a committee of three work with the board of education on a study to eliminate school traffic hazards. It was also voted to have two representatives attend school board meetings and report to the association. A committee headed by Meyer Regenbogen stressed need for immediate planning for "bigger and better" school facilities. President Harold Butler named Mrs. Bernard Marcus to represent the association on the Youth Canteen Committee.

Ellenville's new Lion's Club is to receive its charter from District Governor Paul Patchin of Kinderhook on February 9. It is expected that some 200 local Lions and members of nearby clubs, with their wives, will attend the banquet marking the occasion. The local club meets on the second and fourth Wednesday of the month. The next meeting will be January 11.

California and Utah have been hoped for in 1951. Present experiments assigned various parts of the research project, with completion year, he said.

Wasted House Space Easily Salvaged

A careful check over the house will reveal if all available space is being utilized. Usually there is space going to waste in either the cellar or the attic. This space can easily be turned into a cozy den or guest room on the top floor or a playroom in the basement. Insulating board, wall-board, or other partition materials, applied over the old walls, will redeem this "no-man's land" at a very slight cost.

Removing Floor Marks

Those dark marks on hardwood floors caused by rockers or furniture casters may be removed by rubbing with fine steel wool dipped in quite soapy water. Rub with clear water and then apply a good furniture polish.

Bookshelf Dimensions

Home owners installing bookshelves are advised to give considerable thought to the depth of the shelves, as the sizes of books vary. The average book is about five inches in width, so for general efficiency a shelf six inches in depth is recommended.

Although television sets of direct view type put the picture on the flat end of a cone-shaped tube, it still is called a "screen."

Slipcovers Are Attractive, Easy To Care for Them

One fascinating method of studying history is to follow how decoration developed in our country and other countries. There are so many factors which change its course. The whims of great ladies, the inventions of the times, and the native inventiveness which makes people of originality put to new uses things which are plentiful to replace those which are scarce, are just a few.

Our generation is adding to this book of facts, as we are following past generations not only courageously, but also more swiftly because transportation and communication have taken a tack in old Father Time. We are creating new, rare and beautiful things and are making the furnishings for our homes both large and small—homes that as a result will be not only more attractive but much more easily cared for.

Ready-Made Slipcovers

Among new things now available are some ready-made slipcovers with many of the characteristics of the standard custom-made slip cover made to harmonize with upholstered furniture. These covers are designed to fit standard furniture models such as the Lawson sofa, the club or channel-back chair. Slip covers originally were custom-made and were used to cover furniture in big houses when the owners went to the seashore or to Europe and the house was closed. Everything in a room was covered with natural-colored Belgian linen, including all wood pieces as well as the upholstered pieces. Linen bags were made for the draperies and the portieres.

Wearing given the slip cover a more important part in our daily life. It protects the upholstery from wear and tear; it covers and conceals worn upholstery. The slip cover may be removed and washed or cleaned. And as an extra dividend, it introduces change to a dull room with well selected colors and attractive designs.

In Pattern and Stripes
You may purchase the new ready-made ones in a cotton print or stripe, sunfast and washable, in harmonizing colors for both sofas and chairs. The covers have zipper closings as do the separate cushions. The designers have provided careful tailoring details, including welted edges and pleated corners.

There should be no difficulty in fitting them, as instructions come with each, as well as a wonderful little paddle, the professional uses to tuck in the slack needed when people sit down.

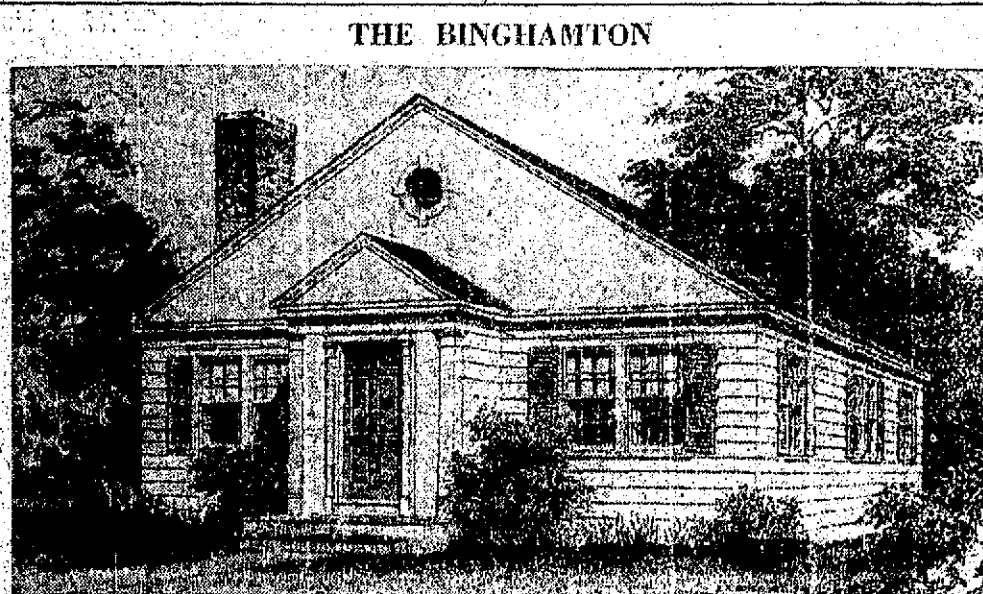

Porch Care

During the spring inventory of needed repairs about the home, special attention should be given the porches and steps of a house. A check list for possible repairs and improvements should include:

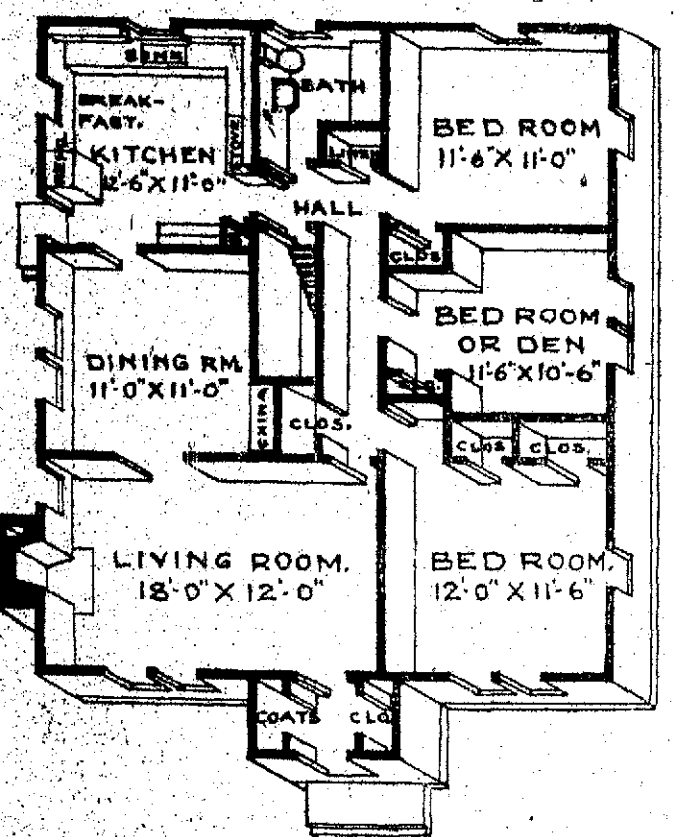

1. Decayed column bases.
2. Broken, loose, or missing balusters.
3. Decayed, broken, or loose floorboards.
4. Decayed or inefficient floor supports.
5. Broken, loose, or worn steps.
6. Feasibility of installing lattice work to hide open spaces under porch.
7. Feasibility of enclosing porches with glass or screening.
8. Need for floor paint or general repainting.
9. Open joints or cracks in masonry requiring pointing.
10. Broken or loose floor tile or other masonry requiring repairs.

Chimney Paint Peeling

If paint peels from a brick chimney, moisture penetrating through the joints between the bricks may be responsible. The remedy is to remove the loosened paint and to fill all joints properly. Allow to dry and harden, then apply exterior varnish to the bare spots. When thoroughly dry, repaint.

One-Story Dwelling Has Three Bedrooms

Entry Ell Treatment Unusual Feature of Cosy House

A simple, rectangular house with Colonial lines, "The Binghamton," today's design from the Home of the Week Plan Service, meets the requirements of the homeseeker who wants a 1-story dwelling with three bedrooms.

Measuring 31x37 feet at the foundations, this home can be built on a lot with a frontage of only 50 feet. The house contains 19,000 cubic feet of space. It has a simple A-style roof, the least expensive type to build, and it is built close to the ground, making it easy for the owner to do his own painting and repair work.

Has Attic for Storage
The outside walls may be of either painted clapboards or shingles and for contrast, the architects recommend the use of stucco finish on the gable ends. The wide expanse of the front gable, over the projecting entry, is relieved by a simple bull's-eye window. In the rear gable louvers are provided for ventilation of the attic, which in this house is useful only for storage.

A pleasing feature of the dwelling is the treatment of the entry ell. Inside, the ell is large enough to accommodate an entry hall with coat closets at either side. An open arch or a door separates the entry hall and the adjoining living room. Use of a door here will keep out drafts in winter, the architects point out.

The living room measures 18x12 feet. The fireplace, in the rear end of the room, is built with a flush mantel so the full floor space of the room may be utilized. Across the room from the entry arch or door is door opening on a L-shaped back hall connecting with the bedrooms, bath, cellar stairs and ending at a door to the kitchen. A large storage closet and a linen closet open off this hall.

Double Window in Dining Room
Living room and the 11x11-foot dining room are connected by a wide archway. A double window on the side of the house lights the dining room. Opposite, in the inside wall of the room, is a built-in wall china cabinet. A swinging door opens from the dining room to the kitchen.

The latter measures 12x11 feet and its layout will appeal to most housewives. It includes a broom closet, a wall cabinet with working counter near the door to the dining room; a long L-shaped working counter with sink; the stove abutting the main work counter; and an open floor area between the counter and refrigerator, under a window, left open to accommodate a breakfast set. A service entry, with a glazed door giving additional light, is located in the corner of the room near the refrigerator.

Just inside the door from kitchen to hall is the cellar stairway. In the basement the heating system is placed under the living room and laundry equipment below either the bathroom or kitchen. This leaves much of the basement open for other uses.

Bedrooms on Right Side
The bedrooms, lined along the right side of the house, range in size from 12x11½ feet to 11½x10½ feet. The two outside corner rooms have windows on two exposures; the middle room has two windows in its one outside wall. The unusual shape of this room suggests the use of built-in bookshelves along one or both walls. Single closets are provided in two of the bedrooms. The front room has two.

Access to the attic storage space can be provided by installation of a ceiling trap, with disappearing stairway, in the long stretch of the hall.

This type of house should be insulated in side walls and over all room ceilings. Complete plans and specifications for this "Home of the Week," or any other design of this series, are available at moderate cost. To ascertain the exact price of these documents, write to the Home Building Editor, and enclose a self-addressed envelope bearing a 3-cent stamp. At least one week should be allowed for a reply.

Corrugated Down Spout Best for Cold Weather

Down spouts may be made of copper, zinc, sheet lead or galvanized iron, but copper and galvanized iron are used most frequently in the United States. Both these materials should be corrugated (having a wrinkle surface) to permit the ice that may form inside, to expand with consequent expansion of the metal without injury. Square down spouts are preferable to round ones, although the latter are in common use. The style of the house should determine the shape of the down spout.

Loose Mortar Should Get Expert Attention

Brick homes are usually clothed in an air of permanence, but in many old homes the mortar may loosen and fall out and cracks appear in the wall.

When an unfavorable condition exists in an old brick home, the home owner should not attempt to correct the fault himself but should call in a brick mason to estimate the extent of damage and make the required repairs.

Dual Purpose Furniture

Think about the modern magic of dual purpose furniture, such as space saving chests that may be stacked vertically or horizontally, depending on wall space; bookcases that can be used as bed backs, nice for having books handy when reading in bed; screens that open up into cupboards and make wonderful extra closet space.

Expert Work and Careful Study on Chimneys Urged

Careful study and expert workmanship are required in the construction of a chimney in either a new house or in an existing structure, according to Federal Housing Administration officials. Attempts at "home-made" chimneys should be discouraged. A chimney is like installing electrical wiring or plumbing equipment—there is more to the job than appears on the surface.

In building a chimney there are two considerations to be borne in mind: will it provide proper draft for the fire it serves; and is it built so as not to be a fire hazard?

Separate Flue Essential

To insure the proper functioning of a chimney as a draft, each flue should have its own separate flue and the cross sectional area of each flue must be sufficient to adequately serve the fire. The size and height of flues is governed by the type of fuel used, such as wood, coal, gas, or oil, and method and rate of firing.

The top of the chimney should be at least two feet higher than the highest ridge of the house. Sharp bends in flues should be avoided, and where they are necessary the bend should be gradual. Masonry chimneys should be lined with clay-tile flue lining and all joints completely filled.

Keep Woodwork Away

No woodwork should be placed nearer than two inches from any chimney, and where the chimney passes through a floor nonflammable material should be placed between the wood and the masonry as a fire stop.

Chimneys should start from a solid foundation in order to prevent settling and cracking. The foundation should never rest on filled ground.

At the top of the chimney there should be a cap of cast concrete, stone, or other masonry material at least three inches thick with the top beveled to shed water.

Heated Sunroom Helps To Keep House Warm

Many persons close up their sunrooms during the Winter to save fuel. This should be done, of course, if the room is not heated. However, most sunrooms today have radiators or warm air grilles.

In such cases, the householder will find that by leaving the sunroom open to the rest of the house and using it normally all winter, it will help warm the home, provided there is sufficient radiation to compensate for the wide expanse of windows. The very least of the average sunroom takes advantage of the sun's rays and there add to the warmth of the house, together with the added radiation.

Consider the Neighbors

When planning a color scheme for the exterior of your house, consider the coloring of adjacent neighbors' homes. Clashing colors in the immediate surroundings can detract greatly from the attractive effect you wish to achieve.

Attractive Modernfold means larger rooms because it makes usable the space swinging doors waste. That's because this fabric-covered, metal-framed door folds like an accordion... gives you every inch of wall and floor space. Think of it! No door interference—furniture can be placed next to openings... rooms serve a dual purpose. For full information call on us today.

May Form International Management Club in City

An Industrial Management Club may be formed in Kingston following an informational meeting slated Wednesday night at the Y.M.C.A. At 6:30 p. m., Ernest Ford will speak at a supper meeting to which all industries are invited to send representatives. Ford, state secretary of New York, has had more experience than any other man with the industrial clubs in New York state and will answer questions concerning such a club in Kingston.

A group of representative industries interested in the project, visited the Newburgh Industrial Management Club last month and were impressed with the fellowship, educational and service features enjoyed by the group in Newburgh as they gathered at the Y.M.C.A. once each month for a supper program. The "Y" has played a role in this field as a service to many industrial men who are not here during the day to attend to their service clubs.

All industries are invited to attend this open meeting with Ford and ask questions of his representatives by Tuesday night.

Mother Unlikely To Get Yule Wish

New York, Dec. 24 (AP)—The Christmas wishes of Mrs. Marion Brady are not likely to come true. Since September, the 36-year-old mother has been in an iron lung after a severe attack of infantile paralysis. She is largely paralyzed, and cannot even use her voice.

But from her lip movements and the pleading in her eyes, her attendants at St. Luke's Hospital knew she was trying to say something.

Finally, in desperation, they called a lip reader from the New York League for the Hard of Hearing. With the help of a mirror, Mrs. Brady missed words with her lips, and Miss Marjorie Dew translated them.

"Get me out of the respirator for Christmas...."

"Would the hospital let my children come visit me for Christmas...."

"Tell them....I love them very much...."

The answers were hard. To leave the respirator would be death itself. And because of the nature of the disease, it is doubtful the children could come.

It was easier to meet the third demand.

The message of love has already gone to her three youngsters.

Aged Rhinebeck Man Found Dead in Home

Rhinebeck, N. Y., Dec. 24 (AP)—An aged man was found dead in his isolated home near here last night, a bullet wound in his head and his clothing a mass of flames.

The victim was identified as Frank L. Teal, about 80, a retired surveyor who lived alone. Dr. L. Edward Cotter, Dutchess county deputy medical examiner, indicated he believed Teal had been murdered.

The body, slumped in a blazing chair, was found by a neighbor who had come in to prepare dinner for the elderly man. She told police that Teal's clothing was ashen when she entered the room. The smoldering blaze had eaten through the living room floor.

Dr. Cotter said that either the bullet wound or the burns may have been the cause of death. A weapon was found, immediately.

"I am suspicious this is not suicide," Dr. Cotter said. "I think it is quite definitely murder."

Teal had lived in his bungalow home since the death of a sister last May.

The boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Camp of nearby Caliente, was about 12 miles from the place where he left his companions after a quarrel, reportedly concerning two girls in the party. He struck out on his own, but was never seen again until yesterday.

Holy Pilgrimage Has Mud and Rain
Bethlehem, Dec. 24 (AP)—Rain, mud and grim reminders of a recent war today marred the traditional Christmas Eve pilgrimage to Bethlehem, birthplace of the Prince of Peace.

There were two roads this time—and two processions.

Only a few would make the trip, in comparison with the thousands who used to go in other times.

Bergsmen and pilgrims living in the Archdiocese of Cologne were forced to follow the muddy northern route to the ancient city. Delegates of the U. S. diplomats and a few other pilgrims traveled from the new port of Jerusalem, held by the Jews, over the southern Roman road.

The dull sound of explosions could be heard as Jewish soldiers cleared wartime mines from their route. The road travels for a few miles through Jewish-held territory to the Arab-Jewish demarcation line set up by the armistice which stopped the war between them. Heavily armed soldiers of both sides face each other there, and the pilgrims will be permitted to pass and return only at certain hours.

But inside Bethlehem the spirit of Christmas-time worship will prevail. Mass will be celebrated in St. Catherine's Church adjoining the Church of the Nativity, which is said to stand on the spot where Christ was born. Msgr. Gustave Testa, acting Roman Catholic patriarch, will conduct the service.

In the courtyard of the Church of the Nativity, the Anglican Episcopalians will sing carols before midnight tonight. Other Protestant sects are also planning observances.

Rush at Bank Saves Concern's Payroll

New York, Dec. 24 (AP)—The breathless bookkeeper rushed into the Bloch Metal Stamping Co. in Brooklyn with the $500 payroll and started apologizing.

"Sorry to be so late," he said. "The bank was jammed, Christmas you know, and all those payrolls to make up."

"What a pity," said his boss, Benjamin Bloch. "You missed all the excitement."

Two gunmen had walked into the plant for the payroll, held everyone prisoner at pistol point, and waited and waited for the bookkeeper to show up.

After 15 minutes they gave it up as a bad job and left—taking only $100 from Bloch.

Dean Tells Story
Just before Drewry, author and university administrator of the George Peabody Award—radio's Pulitzer Prize—was wheeled into the operating room, said Roberts, he told this story:

He and Miss Thummond were talking quietly in the living room of her home when Mrs. Drewry entered, gun in hand.

Before anyone could utter a word, Mrs. Drewry raised the pistol, aimed and fired. She put the gun, a pearl handled .32, in her handbag and left, even closing the door.

Miss Thummond's horrified mother, sitting in an adjacent room, arrived just in time to see Mrs. Drewry leave.

Roberts said that Mrs. Drewry, the former Kathleen Merry, calmly motored home and telephoned several friends. One managed to keep her talking while his wife notified police.

Divorcee in Hospital
After she was taken into custody, Mrs. Drewry was placed in another hospital.

The Drewrys, who were married in 1925, were divorced last summer. They have one son, Milton, a freshman at the university.

Russians Accuse Japanese of Germ War, Using Fleas

Moscow, Dec. 24 (AP)—Russia accused the Japanese today of actually waging bacteriological warfare in China in 1940 with airborne fleas. They also charged the Japanese had prepared to direct the germ assault against the Soviet Union.

The charges were published and broadcast as an indictment naming 12 former Japanese army officers as leaders in the alleged germ warfare. They included questions that prisoners were used as human guinea pigs to test germ warfare theories.

The indictment said Lt. Gen. Shiro Ishii of the medical service, in the summer of 1940, infected areas of central China with parathion, germ-laden fleas, starting a bubonic plague. The Japanese set up two secret research centers in Manchuria to conduct bacteriological warfare on secret orders from Emperor Hirohito.

The germ program, the charges said, was directed at the Soviet Union, the Mongolian peoples republic, China and "other states."

Japanese generals in testimony published at great length, related how they were preparing to spread these horrors:

Bubonic plague, cholera, typhoid, paratyphoid, anthrax, glanders, gas gangrene and others. Documents to this effect, as well as testimony of the accused, were included in the published indictment, which said detachments for bacteriological warfare were disguised.

The bacteriological centers, the indictment also said, had special aviation detachments which had been trained in dropping the germs. It said the Japanese had special prisoners in which Chinese, Russians and Manchurians were held as human guinea pigs for use in bacteriological experiments. It said these prisoners—many of whom were Soviet citizens—never returned, and if they did not die from one infectious disease they were contaminated with another.

Spies Sentenced To Prison Terms

Wroclaw, Poland, Dec. 24 (AP)—Prison terms ranging from six to 22 years today faced four French nationals, a Pole and a German convicted here on spying charges.

All six had pleaded guilty or partially guilty in a week-long trial which ended yesterday. The public prosecutor had demanded the death penalty.

The longest sentence, 22 years, went to Jan Kubisiak, a Pole accused of working for an alleged French espionage ring.

Basil Brousskov, a former messenger for the French consulate in Wroclaw, was sentenced to 14 years. He told the court he had orders from the secretary of the French embassy in Warsaw, Aymar De Brossin De Mere, to obtain from Polish mines what he believed to be samples of uranium, used in atom bombs.

Brousskov said he got the samples from another defendant, Wilhelm Hild, a German mining engineer. Hild was sentenced to six years after admitting he had turned over to the French two bits of uranium "the size of a fingernail."

Yvonne Bassler, a French consular official in the French consulate at Wroclaw and the only woman on trial, received a sentence of 12 years.

Two other Frenchmen, Joseph Feisen and Alfred Hoffman, received sentences of 12 and 11 years respectively.

When the trial began, the French foreign office in Paris branded the spy charges against the four French defendants as ridiculous.

None of the occupants of the vehicle reported receiving injuries, police said.

Family of Four Burned to Death

Brantford, Conn., Dec. 24 (AP)—A Brantford couple and their two infant children were burned to death early today on the couple's fourth wedding anniversary.

The dead:

Charles Hudson Nott, a former army pilot and veteran of 75 light or missions over Europe in World War 2, who would have been 31 years old today.

Elizabeth McCleod Nott, 21, his wife.

Hudson Malcolm Nott, 2 years, 11 months old.

Lawrence Treat Nott, nine months old.

The four were trapped in their sleep by fire which Marshal Ernest W. Wood said started from a faulty oil burner and spread rapidly through the two-story frame house.

A general alarm brought all of Brantford's fire companies to fight the blaze.

After Yule . . .

A three-hour absence, to spend a quiet evening with Mrs. Truman and their daughter Margaret.

Mrs. Truman and Margaret will attend midnight services at Trinity Episcopal Church tonight. It was not disclosed whether the President would go with them, but it was thought unlikely because he dislikes the attention he attracts on such solemn occasions. Miss Truman will sing in the church choir, as she did last year.

Pardoned Prisoner

"because you can't expect a woman to wait all her life."

Two jobs have been offered to Boy—one in a lumberyard and another as a machinist. Since his trade is that of a machinist, he hopes to take that one.

Another thing he plans to do, he said, is clear his name.

Boy was convicted of first degree murder because he supplied the guns with which a cashier was killed in a holdup.

He insists he was innocent.

Better Christmas

London, Dec. 24 (AP)—For Europe it will be a dull Christmas—white only in favored spots—but a better one than the Old Continent has had since the war. From the United Kingdom and from all quarters of the mainland came reports that there is more of just about everything—more food, more toys, more warmth, more smiles.

Record Yule . . .

Two St. Paul stores was about the same and better in a third.

Pre-Christmas department store sales in Kansas City, the Federal Reserve Board reported, were up 19 per cent for the four weeks ended Dec. 17 compared to last year. The increase for Missouri was 17 per cent and for Kansas four per cent.

Boston reported retail sales were expected to equal or exceed last year's dollar volume.

Christmas business at five leading department stores at Richmond was reported 10 to 20 per cent more than in 1948, a new record.

The holiday shopping season started late in Los Angeles, but was reported heavy. Sales in San Francisco department stores increased four per cent for the week ended Dec. 17 as compared to last year, the 12th District Federal Reserve Board said.

Two major stores in Atlanta reported business "well ahead of 1948," and "considerably improved over last year."

feared we would have to impose," he said.

At the first of the month, City Water Commissioner Stephen J. Carney said rationing would have to start "not later than New Year's" if the loss wasn't checked.

Now—even at the city's old rate of consumption—the rationing date has been pushed back to the middle of February. At the new low rate—about 878,000,000 gallons a day—it would not be necessary until February 24. This, of course, takes no account of the rains and snow likely to fall during the winter months.

This has already begun to take some effect, and yesterday's net loss in the reservoirs was only 221,000,000 gallons.

But the city leaders were quick to point out that this was not a pardon—just a short parole. The water problem is expected to last for at least two years until new supplies are tapped in upstate New York.

For the present, the biggest constructive plan—aside from continued self-restraint—is to tap the Hudson river above the sewage level. This is expected to produce an extra 100,000,000 gallons a day.

Miss America . . .

four-inches tall, 106 pounds, 34-inch bust, 22-inch waist, and 34-inch hips.

Young Cook admitted just before the announcement party that "heavy contests were things I hated."

"I was pleased, amazed and aghast when I learned Jacques won," Doug admitted.

Both Jacques, who will be 19 on January 7, and her fiancé were senior students at Phoenix College last year. They first met when she was 14 and he 15. They've dated ever since.

Agreement Reached On Civil Rights

Belgrade, Dec. 21 (AP)—The United States and Yugoslavia reached a provisional civil aviation agreement today allowing American civil planes to fly over this country's territory and land at its airports.

Simultaneously, it was allowed planes to operate over American zones of occupation in Austria and Germany and land at airports there.

Although it was not specified in the agreement, it was understood here that Pan American World Airways will use a stop here on its New York to Calcutta run. This will cut about 800 miles off its present route.

Pope Asks Uniting

Martin Luther to protest in his day, and forces us to protest in ours.

The Rt. Rev. Charles K. Gilbert, Protestant Episcopal bishop of New York, said he had a comment on the Pope's address, as did Bishop G. Harney, bishop of the New York area of the Methodist Church.

In England, a spokesman for the archbishop of Canterbury, who heads the Church of England, said that from previous reactions of similar appeals by the Pope, "our attitude is plain."

Christmas in Hospital

Boston, Dec. 24 (AP)—A four-year-old girl from Massachusetts, N. Y., suffering from a disease which destroys the red corpuscles of the blood, won't be able to spend Christmas at home, Little Linda Pietrasia was told yesterday. She would have to spend Christmas at Children's Hospital with her mother, Mrs. Dominus Pietrasia.

The Rural Electrification Administration has found chemicals the best means of controlling brush along power line rights of way.

Christmas
What better time than Christmas for every American to reaffirm his faith in God and emulate the great builders of our nation—God-fearing men—who turned to prayer for guidance and inspiration.
Only through prayer and faith can we assure the continuance of freedom without fear—tolerance without tyranny—democracy and lasting world peace.
Without the worship of God, life is stark. On this Christmas Day, let us humbly pay homage to Christ who humbled himself for mankind.
Let us resolve, through Christian fellowship, to do our part to maintain the rich heritage of our country and to help those less fortunate peoples of the world.

Christmas Morn
It matters not on Christmas morn, what faith, what creed men be.
It matters not what wealth of gold has come to thee, or me, it matters only that we know, that in the manger lies the Christ-Child they called Jesus—Born on Christmas Day.

We toil and strive for earthly gain, we reckon not the cost.
Off times in seeking worldly fame, a friendship proved is lost.
But the light that shone on Bethlehem, is shining from afar,
On Christmas Day those wounds are healed, love's mantle hides the scar.

Our gifts today to those we love, are but reverence to His Will.
He gave His one begotten Son, on a Cross on Calvary's Hill.
His gift to us is not forgotten, in ever Christian clime,
We honor the One Great Architect, who made His gift sublime.

Christmas is the season of hope. The hope of tomorrow became the inspiration of mankind and with that hope men began to feel within himself the power to do, even though unrecognized and alone, he looked forward toward a better day to come. Today is redeemed by tomorrow's possibility for better things and that possibility is what makes life worth living to all of us, whether consciously or unconsciously. The lesson of Christmas is hope—and a part of hope is faith. It is faith that

Do You Remember

by
SOPHIE MILLER

I have seen the modern combination letter and envelope. But this from the November 30, 1882 Kingston Journal and Weekly Freeman, a Washington, D. C. item "The Postmaster General has signed a contract for a combination letter and envelope which will be put upon the market the middle of January, at prices varying from two to four dollars per thousand, according to the quality of the paper. All post offices will be supplied, and letter sheet and envelope and stamp can be had for three cents, and a circular letter sheet and stamp for a cent, adding the cost of the manufacture." Who remembers?

Among our local notes of interest of that issue: "The new Sunday law passed by the Legislature last winter regarding the doing of business on Sunday will commence to take effect December 1, and the cigar men and barbers, etc., are beginning to wonder whether it will not have its effect upon them. Some of the cigar men take this as an excuse for closing up on Sunday."

Also "The intention of the Grand Jury in its recommending a light in the jail, was not to have more daylight in the corridor, but to have more light at night so that in case the jailer desired to go inside he would be able to see just what the condition was, so as not to take any risk. The idea was to have a gas light in such a shape that it could light the corridor and could be controlled outside of the jail."

Perhaps folks remember such incidents as "A hoot owl tried to get in Avery's saloon window Sunday night on Main street, and Avery thinking it was a cat, started to let him through it, when the owl went across the street, alighting in a tree near the Roosa's." Some one remarked to like that if he had a gun he might shoot it, but like said, "Oh, no! I'll catch any hoot owl." He brought out a chair and stood up on it to catch the owl, but the chair slipped in the snow, and Isaac went down on his back, and the owl took off in the darkness of the night. I remember back in the 1820's when an owl decided to park on our store sign downtown, he just sat there and looked at us, while we all looked at him. First and only time I ever saw a live owl. He looked like a big stuffed doll with big round glassy eyes.

It seems during the wintering folks were busy fixing up their boats and other modes of travel for the summer, for instance "The Ulster and Delaware have put their new coaches in order for the winter. They have been thoroughly cleaned, and as soon as the new car house is finished will be stored away out of the weather. They were not injured or marred in the least by the summer travel, and they will be brought out next summer as bright and fresh as when new." This from 1882.

Do you remember when the first summer open trolley used to run down Broadway? It was usually all polished and varnished for the summer trade. It was so good, all the merchants ran out of their stores to look and wave to the motorman. How we enjoyed simple things in those days.

Bingo Is the Password.
Chicago, (AP)—The forces of the law in this town crack down from time to time on various kinds of gambling. The latest target is bingo. A tip came to the Shakespearian avenue police station that sounded suspicious. A big bunch of men had gathered in a hall. There was a peephole in the door. A guard would not admit anybody who didn't know the password. Several squads drove to the address, burst into the crowded hall, and found themselves in the midst of a lodge meeting.

Dose of Cortisone

New York (AP)—Cortisone's new price, $150 a gram, makes it cost about $15 for a single dose for arthritis. Some doses double that. Cortisone is the new adrenal hormone which tops arthritic pains of the rheumatoid type in a few days. It also is used for rheumatic heart troubles and gout, and some allergic, skin diseases and the type of cancer known as lymphatic. In arthritis and cancer, daily doses are required for weeks.

The Kingston Day Nursery

My love a nursery means much more than a place where children are given you this, she gives you that.
She gives you everything in fact.
And very fortunate, I say
if there's no aunt to lead the way.
Dear Grandma Noble is loved by all.
Aunt Emma respected by big and small.
Now grandma bears the name we love;
For noble is who noble does.
Aunt Emma is the children's friend.
She works and plays and plays with them.
There are two more friends within these walls.
They have the greatest task of all.
For Grandma Noble and Mr. Brandt
To the children's earthly needs attend.
So let us help these good folks do
The work our Saviour asks them to.
Help where we can; and when we can't.
Give what we can; all this God grant.

Got Santa's Number And His Calls Too

New York, Dec. 23 (AP)—Dr.
Herman B. Zuroff thought he was going nuts when little voices started coming over his office telephone. They kept asking for Santa Claus.

"It began six weeks ago," said the 58th street physician, still a little shaken today.

"We began getting two or three calls a day, and childish voices would ask for Santa. We thought it was a gag—at first."

"Little voices at all hours of the day and night," said Dr. Zuroff, his voice hoarse at the memory. "I thought we'd go crazy."

But a checkup convinced the doctor his sanity wasn't tottering.

Last year a toy shop hired a Santa Claus to talk to kids. They put in a special phone for him and the number was Murray Hill 8-2551.

This year the shop dropped the idea. So the telephone company assigned Murray Hill 8-2551 to
Dr. Zuroff.

Then the phone company forgot all about it. Not so the kids.
They knew where Santa was last year. With childish faith, they assumed he'd still be doing business at the same old stand.

Said Dr. Zuroff:
"We wrote a blistering letter to the phone company."

It got results.
Now when you dial Murray
Hill 8-2551, an operator asks who you want. If it's Dr. Zuroff, she gives you his new number.

If it's Santa, the operator says
matter-of-factly:
"Sorry, Santa Claus' number has been disconnected."

Plow for Driveway
Made in Nebraska
Being Sold Locally

A rotary snow plow for driveways and sidewalks is now available locally. It was announced today by the Albany Avenue Garage, 533 Albany Avenue, dealers for Cushman products.

The new product, known as the Cushman Husky "Snow-Rotor," is manufactured by Cushman Motor Works, Lincoln, Nebraska. It is designed so that a conversion kit utilizing the engine, wheels and handclutch will convert the unit into a rotary lawn mower. However, while the conversion kit is completely developed, production has not started on it, according to a company announcement.

The "Snow-Rotor" clears a 16-inch path, and tosses the snow from the cleared area—as far as 25-feet away. It operates on a 2½ horsepower motor with a rope pull starter.

The company claims several hours of operation on each gallon of gasoline. Availability of the new rotary plow will be limited for a time and orders will be handled on a "first come, first served" basis.

Holy Year Is Expected to Draw Large Pilgrimage

Since A.D. 1475 every twenty-fifth year has been proclaimed from the Vatican as Holy Year. An extraordinary plenary indulgence is granted by the Pope during Holy Year to all Catholics throughout the world who visit Rome in order to venerate the tombs of the Apostles and the See of St. Peter. Almost all other indulgences by the Vatican are suspended in Holy Year, which begins with the opening of the holy doors of St. Peter's in Rome as the climax to colorful ceremonies, prayers and papal procession. Simultaneously papal delegates will open the Holy Doors at the three major basilicas in Rome: St. Mary Major, St. John Lateran and St. Paul Outside the Walls. Facing the great colonnaded plaza of St. Peter's, the bronze doors are opened on Christmas Eve and closed at the end of Holy Year, twenty months later.

A.D. 1300 was the first recorded Christian Holy Year, originally proclaimed every 100 years. The period between Holy Years was later reduced from 100 years to 50, then to 35 and finally by Pope Paul II to 25 years. Visitors travel to Rome from all over the world for the opening of the holy doors, at the beginning of Holy Year, one of Christianity's most impressive ceremonies.

This Holy Year is expected to draw the largest pilgrimage in the history of the Catholic Church. Estimates vary from 850,000 to 750,000 pilgrims, with more than a quarter of a million from the United States alone. The Holy See has ordered the formation of seven operating commissions with executive functions: Spiritual assistance, exhibitions, sacred music, congresses, technical and financial services, charity of the Holy Father Exhibition and exhibition of Catholic activities. The Italian Committee is in charge of advising the government and coordinating activities of the various ministries on all matters necessary to facilitate the influx of pilgrims. This includes lodgings, transportation, passports and visas, currency regulations, cultural and artistic celebrations as well as supervision of public transportation and hotel establishments, including rates and prices. The Italian Committee will establish information booths and clearing centers at border points, ports and airports.

French, Swiss and Italian government railroads have just announced special reduced fares for pilgrims to Holy Year. Major airlines have released excursion trip fares to Rome and other holy shrines for 1950, through negotiations by the Holy Year committee with the International Air Transport Association. Announcements have been made during the past week that the Italian government has authorized the transfer of the Conte Biancamano from the South American steamship service to relieve the pressure of demand for steamship space from New York during the summer months. All hotels, boarding houses, and private residences in Rome have been canvassed for available accommodations for tourists and a definite scale of charges has been established which will prevail during Holy Year. Religious houses will also open their doors to the pilgrims to help the housing situation.

A complete calendar of International Catholic Conventions and Congresses has recently been released and should soon be available to all Catholic organizations in this diocese through their spiritual leader. A special film on Holy Year, in color, is expected to be shown locally early in January and will be of interest to Catholic and non-Catholic groups for its historical as well as its religious significance.

Also a part of the Christmas Cheer Service, the Salvation Army will again assist the guards at Napanoch prison in staging a party for the inmates. A gift will be given each person.

Captain George Gibb reported today that the demand for Christmas food checks has been unusually heavy this year. These checks were distributed Friday morning to deserving families. All applicants have been cleared through the Ulster County Council of Social Agencies to avoid duplication. Sunshine bags were also distributed Friday afternoon to local hospitals, institutions and sanitariums.

She was born in Plattekill, May 26, 1872, the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Scheffel. Funeral services were held at the home of her son, Henry Kallap, at Poughkeepsie, with the Rev. Dr. Arthur G. Carroll, pastor of the Washington street Methodist Church officiating. Burial was in the Mount Marion Cemetery.

Rebecca Mackey, 84, widow of Jacob Mackey, died Sunday, Dec. 18, at Plattekill. Private funeral services were held at the Pine Funeral Home in New Paltz, with burial in the New Paltz Rural Cemetery. A sister, Mrs. Mary Kerr of Kingston, survives.

Local students of the Wallkill Central School attended the inter-med yuletide dance sponsored by the school yearbook staff, Wednesday evening in the school gymnasium.

About 50 people attended the special meeting at the Plattekill school recently when the subject of additional school room for children of kindergarten age was discussed. Members of the Wallkill Central District School system were in attendance. The conclusion in certain rooms of the school hinders teaching facilities and deprives the student of necessary attention. Ten youngsters volunteered to take part in the entertainment and were enthusiastically received by the audience. The Legionnaires presented each with a prize.

Santa Claus arrived and distributed candy, nuts and fruits to every child in the audience.

Edward Hung, past vice commander, was chairman of the arrangements and was aided by a committee from the Post and Auxiliary.

Edgar M. Maurer, house committee chairman, reminds all members of the post of the Open House Party to be held at the Memorial Home Monday from 2 to 6 p. m. All comrades, families and friends are invited.

Much interest has been shown in the New Year's Eve party to be held at the Memorial Home December 31. Any comrade who has not made his reservations is urged to contact Irving Maurer, telephone 3704-W-1, before Monday as no reservations can be accepted after that date.

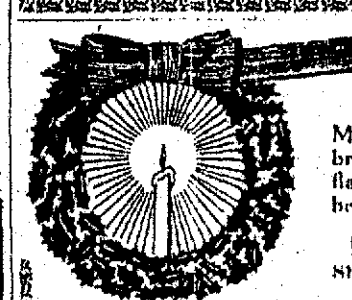

A night of prayer and reaffirmed faith. We wish you all the joy and contentment He may bestow upon you.

Langer-Bryson Bill
Mrs. Marie Gunther of 47 Washington avenue was hostess to the Kingston W.C.T.U. for the December meeting. During the business meeting, Mrs. George W. Shults, president, presented the Langer-Bryson Bill No. 1847, now in committee of Congress and on which hearings will be held January 12 and 13.

The petition to Congressmen from the W.C.T.U. follows:
To our senators and representatives in Congress: We respectfully request that you use your influence and vote for the passage of a bill to prohibit the transportation of alcoholic beverages, advertising in interstate commerce over the radio. The most pernicious effect of this advertising is the constant invitation and enticement to drink. The American people spent $9,640,000,000 for alcoholic beverages in 1947, as compared with $7,770,000,000 in 1945. During the same period there was a corresponding increase in crime, juvenile delinquency, broken homes, deaths and injuries due to intoxicated drivers, in the number of alcoholics and also of habitual or heavy drinkers. There is every reason why this waste of money and of human values should not be increased but rather decreased.

For the program Mrs. Minnie Dunnegan said the Christmas story has been portrayed through pictures, poetry, story and music in most of the countries of the world. She spoke especially of the Christian paintings and music of the Italians. Mrs. Fred Smith reported on commercializing of Christmas. A social hour followed the business meeting.

St. John's Success Throws Spotlight On Frank McGuire's Great Coaching

Coast Quintets Regain Prestige

New York, Dec. 24 (AP)—The amazing early season success of St. John's University's basketball team has focused attention on the Redmen's young coach, Frank McGuire, who is fast gaining a reputation as one of the game's master strategists.

Cage coaches who have invaded Madison Square Garden with hopes high only to suffer a St. John's drubbing are unanimous in calling the Redmen one of the finest coached quintets they've met.

That is high praise indeed for the soft-spoken, mild-mannered McGuire, who only three years ago was coaching at an obscure local high school. The 36-year-old, former St. John's basketball and baseball star is starting his third season as mentor of the Brooklyn school and it gives promise of being his best yet.

Have 10 Straight
The Redmen have played and won 10 games. They still have 17 to go to complete their schedule, one of the toughest in the nation.

Already they have conquered such opponents as Kentucky and San Francisco, each by decisive margins. All Kentucky did last season was win the N.C.A.A. tournament, while the Frisco Dons captured the National Invitation classic.

Still to be met are such stalwarts as Utah, C.N.Y., St. Joseph's, DePaul, Canisius, N.Y.U. and Temple among others.

Most of the credit for St. John's performance to date must go to the players. The youngsters are good, make no mistake about it. But lots of credit must be given to the personable McGuire who has molded a green squad into a fully conditioned, well-knit, hustling team that has amazed onlookers with its general know-how and savvy.

Only One Senter
The predominantly sophomoric outfit has only one senior on the regular squad, Capt. Jerry Calabrese.

Naturally, it figures to improve as the season progresses. It won't take much more improvement to establish the Redmen as one of the top teams in the nation.

In Calabrese, St. John's has a fine point-maker who finally has recovered from a chronic knee injury. Al McGuire, a junior, is a fine ball handler and rebounder as one would care to watch. Bob Zawolke, a 6-5 center, and guards Jack McMahon and Ray Tully are the sophs.

Each is a fine shot, with McMahon the fastest and trickiest of the trio. Ray MacGilvray, the "sixth" man, probably would be a regular on almost any other squad. In his pre-season musings, McGuire had hopes of winning 18 of the 27 games. "What did he think now?"

"I'll still settle for those 13."

Itasca Ace Slated Against Marlborough

A City Recreation League doubleheader will furnish the Christmas night basketball menu in Kingston this season.

John P. "Buddy" Smith, who has just turned in brilliant performances for Itasca College against Army and Long Island University, is expected to be at center for Garland's Rod Sargent, ex-Hartwick, also will be in the Garland lineup.

The probable lineups:

(First Game)
Whitwick: Patters, Greene, Schoonmaker, Sackler, McCawley, Murray, G. Sass, Mathers, Engle.

Bowling Roundup

Frank "Boots" Leskie, who tosses his pineapple with amazing power despite all the hubbub about alley conditions, pinfall, kimber bottoms, et al., paced last night's session of the Ferrara Classic with a 608 series.

Leskie fired 204, 211 and 191 for the lone "600" of the night. Johnny Schaezel, who finds the Friday night loop a scoring purgatory, was runnerup with 208-217-589. "Lefty" Hamilton, one of the top neophytes, reeled off 200-202-576. Larry Weishaupt 552; Jack Jordan 211-550; Clifton Quick 209-549; George Robinson 541 and "Daisy" Schatzel 542.

In Everybody's League it was Frank Cashara, originator of the pineapple ball, who overshadowed the field with 174-213-175-582. John Sangi, prop., posted 539; Ken Powell 208-520; Joe Heidkamp 495; E. Osterhout 483 and J. Rifenbary 482.

Tony La Rocca made a strong finish to post 156-213-382, top series in the Electoral League. Tom Welch knocked off 202-563; Ray Droulette topped off his night's work with 234-535; Steve Woyden posted 520; Harry Smith 518; D. Maroon 508; Ben Toffel 508, George Castor ditto; Ed Gildenstein 504; R. Meyers and J. Koskie each 503.

A 214 finisher carried Joe Mannoello to 554 high triple in the Hercules League, the solo sold coming after 165 and 175. Clarence Herdman tossed 351; Joe Dulin 529; and Jack Thompson 524.

Ruzzo Major League keglers trailed a couple of veterans. Harry Smith and Ken Williams, who posted 606 and 605 respectively. Smith was well on his way to a big night with 203-242 when he dipped to 161 and 606. Williams flashes greater consistency with 214-202-189-605.

Tom Baker, a good southpaw, shot 211-580; Joe Joseph 210-569; Joe Mannoello 211-568; Phil Corrado 204-563; Cliff Davis 550; Stan Wime 232-542; George Shufeldt 541; "Hod" Spaulding, the "Dalmatian" expert, 213-538 (no comment on the last game).

St. Mary's led all the way to trounce the Redeemers, 47-35, in a senior Church League basketball game last night at the M.J.M. court. They led 23-16 at halftime.

Does He Mean It?

Berkeley, Calif., Dec. 24 (AP)—Coach Lynn (Poppy) Waldorf says his California football team "stinks in all departments." California's Bears meet the Ohio State Buckeyes in the Rose Bowl at Pasadena next January 2.

"Ohio State" scored five touchdowns against the Bears in scrimmage yesterday. The Cal reserves and freshmen were given the ball six times on the California five yard line and hit pay dirt on six occasions.

Electrical Unions Call
Armistice for Christmas

New York, Dec. 24 (AP)—A Christmas armistice was called today by a group of electrical workers in a fight between the National Labor Relations Board and the CIO.

attorney accused his rival of "the most unscrupulous, dilatory tactics I have seen outside Foley Square."

The rival unions are the newly-formed CIO International Electrical Workers and the Independent United Electrical Workers, recently ousted from the CIO. In a surge of Leftist influence, the CIO union is demanding a representation election at the Sperry Gyroscope plant at Lake Success, N. Y., a step opposed by the U. I. Winter's Worst Hazard: SKIDDING

When the road is slippery and you want to slow down, pick dry spots on the pavement and apply the brake evenly. To reduce speed, let two wheels run on road's shoulder, provided it's solid and you aren't going too fast.

McKenney on BridgeThis Safety Play Is A Christmas GiftBy WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY
America's Card Authority
Written for NEA Service

A Merry Christmas to you and all of the card players throughout the world. I firmly believe that the card players have learned how to really enjoy cards and at the same time, through their charity card parties, to do a great deal of good.

So in appreciation for the millions of dollars all of you have raised for various charities I hope Santa Claus will fill your stockings to the top.

I want to give you an unusual safety play today as a Christmas present. The opening lead of the king of spades held the first trick. West then played the ten at spades, wanting his partner to overtake it with the ace, so he could lead back to club. East did overtake, but declarer trumped with the three of hearts.

If West had not led the ten on the second trick, but the queen of spades, and East did not overtake, the declarer's correct play would have been not to ruff, but to discard a club. However, when the ten was overtaken with the ace, declarer had to ruff to prevent a club shift.

At this point the average player would proceed to cash the ace, king and queen of hearts, but that would be the wrong play. You must make a safety play and provide against four trumps being in one hand. You lead the six of hearts and let the opponents win the trick. Now if they continue with a spade you have a heart in dummy to trump with. However, if East wins the trick and returns a club you can jump up with the ace. You then pick up the outstanding trumps and cash your five diamond tricks. Your ace of clubs gives you your tenth trick for your contract.

The Department of Agriculture says veins visible on a cow's udder do not necessarily indicate the amount of milk she will give.

Thieves Get $40,000
In Mink, Sable Coats

New York, Dec. 24 (AP)—Fur thieves who worked so fast their victim couldn't count them escaped with $40,000 in mink and sable last night from a 20th story fur shop in mid-Manhattan.

Furrier Leo Spain told police he was working alone in his office when the robbers burst in on him tied him up, and hustled him into one of his own vaults before he could tell how many there were. He guessed there were three or four.

It was an hour and a half before Spain's cries attracted another fur dealer, who called police. Spain had to shout through the walls of the vault to tell officers where they could find a memo with the combination for the lock.

The furs were a collection of stoies, capes and coats for a forthcoming fashion show.

Gunmen Get $4,000
In Bronx Store Robbery

New York, Dec. 24 (AP)—A holdup last night in a Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company grocery store at 1750 University avenue, the Bronx, netted two gunmen between $3,000 and $4,000, police reported.

The holdup took place as Manager Timothy Curran and two other employees were closing the shop for the night at 8 p. m., police said. After forcing Michael Brady, assistant manager, to open the shop's two safes, the gunmen imprisoned him, Curran and Stephen Cunniff, checker, in a rear room and fled.

Shoppers Aided in Fight Against TB

Many Kingston people this week on their way in and out of the Central Post Office paused long enough to buy Christmas Seal, and small red double-barred crosses, which they pin on their coats before hurrying along to complete their other Christmas shopping.

The Christmas Seal and red double-barred crosses, symbols of the international campaign against tuberculosis, were sold by women volunteers for the 1949 Christmas Seal Sale currently conducted by the Ulster County Tuberculosis and Health Association for its 1950 health program. This booth always attracts a great deal of interest, Miss Alice Seagriff, chairman of supplementary events, said yesterday. The money collected will be included in the receipts from the mail sale of seals she explained. Ladies and organizations working at the Christmas Seal booth this year were:

Mrs. William McNamee, Mrs. John Waterman, American Legion Post 130, Ladies' Auxiliary; Mrs. Samuel Gully, Mrs. Harry Gold, B'nai B'rith Auxiliary, Mrs. Laura Albrecht, Mrs. Harry Wade, Mrs. W.
